Workshops, knowledge sharing, and research outreach

Beyond formal conference organization, I have actively contributed to knowledge exchange through applying a community-based participatory research approach:

- Facilitating workshops grounded in community-based participatory research.
- Presenting preliminary findings to stakeholders, students, research collaborators, and interdisciplinary working groups.
- Supporting communication of project findings to local partners and community members in accessible formats.

The above mentioned partners and stakeholders include: Paarisa, Steno Diabetes Center Greenland, Ministry of Health, Midwives, Public Health Nurses (Sundhedsplejersker), Grønlandsk Medicinsk Selskab, and more.

List of publications

In total, I have authored 32 publications. Altogether they have 304 citations and an h-index of 9 (source: GoogleScholar 03/11/2026).

- 16 articles in peer-reviewed journals: 10 as first author.
- 16 scientific reports: 11 as first author.
