

AT THE EU COMMISSION'S OFFICE IN NUUK

FRIDAY 24 OCTOBER 2025 -- 16:30-18:30

What to expect?

Visit the new EU Office in Greenland and mingle with researchers and participants of the 18th Polar Law Symposium.

Meet researchers within the field of Polar Law, who are taking part in the academic conference Polar Law Symposium in Nuuk and receive answers about why polar law is important relevant to you.

You can also hear about why the EU Commission has established an office in Nuuk and how EU-Greenland partnership is mutually important.

17:00 Maria Ackrén, Professor of Political Science, Head of Research at Nasiffik at Ilisimatusarfik/University of Greenland: Short introduction and moderator

17:05 Simon Bojsen-Møller, Head of Office, European Commission Office in Greenland: About Greenland-EU-relations

17:15 Alan Hemmings, Professor specialising in Antarctic geopolitics at Canterbury University, New Zealand: Why should Greenlanders care about what is going on in the Antarctic?

17:25 Student from Ilisimatusarfik/University of Greenland: What are the most pressing issues in Greenland or the Arctic?

17:30 Student from University of Akureyri, Iceland: What has been learned from the conference?

FOLLOW US

THERE WILL BE COFFEE/TEA AND CAKE!
EVERYONE IS WELCOME TO

INTALEEQQAP AQQ. 12, GL-3900 NUUK

ADDRESS

